Is a Hosted VoIP Phone system right for your business?

We have helped many businesses like yours to realize the tangible benefits of a Hosted VoIP Phone Solution. Clients from all industries have found that the capabilities of UniVoIP's customized voice solutions have exceeded their expectations in handling critical business communications.

Ask yourself:

- Is your existing phone system over two years old, or does it require frequent maintenance?
- Does your phone system lack productivity features such as calling codes, fax-to-email, voicemail-to-email?
- Do you have multiple locations that communicate over long distance?
- Are your employees road warriors with high phone-connectivity needs?
- Does your office experience delays with frequent phone moves or changes?

Significant Cost Savings and Increased Efficiency

When you choose a UniVoIP hosted phone system, you can focus on what you do best - run your business smoothly and efficiently, while our technology saves you time and money.

With a hosted VoIP phone system:

- There is no need for expensive on-site hardware.
- Upfront costs are actually lower than traditional phone systems.
- Advanced features save money over separate programs and hardware.
- Seamless interface connects remote workers and tasks in one easy-to-use platform.
- Business owners can select features and services on demand, paying only for what they need.

Did you answer yes to any question above?

It may be time for your practice to meet the business challenges and opportunities facing you with the capability, security and flexibility that a hosted VoIP system can provide.
